But Staying the Same.

St. Mary's is indeed a tradition always changing but remaining the same. Balloon chapel is a good example of how our school welcomes new traditions. At the same time, the pictures on this page portray some of the oldest traditions concerning the chapel. St. Mary's will undoubtedly adopt more new traditions, but it's the old ones that make it the school it is today.

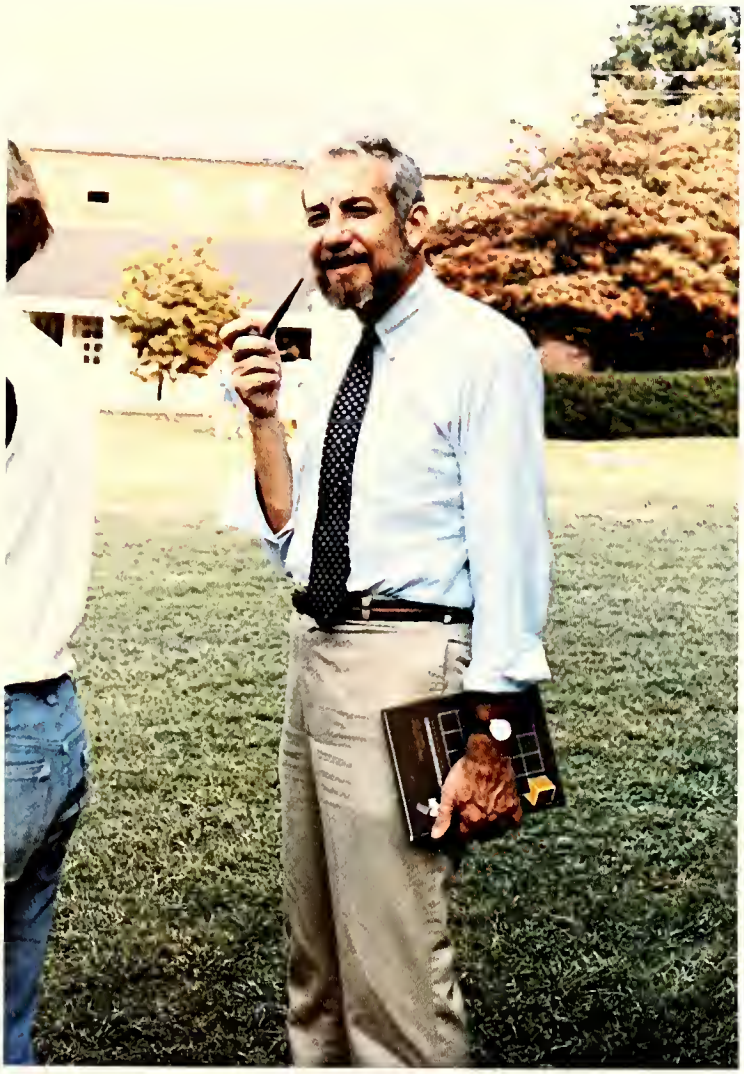
DEDICATION



Administrator, scholar, and educator — Dr. Robert J. Miller, Dean of the College. An advocate of academic excellence, he has for eleven years fulfilled the duties of his position competently and enthusiastically, and has unselfishly devoted his service to the St. Mary's community. It is in his honor that the 1984 Stagecoach is dedicated.

HONORS CONVOCATION
RECOGNIZES ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

Following tradition, the annual Honors Convocation was held in Pittman Auditorium on a sunny day in April, 1983. This special assembly is a time to recognize outstanding students for academic excellence and dedication. Each academic department at St. Mary's may present an award to both a high school student and a college student honoring their achievements in that discipline. Other awards, such as the Robert L. Connelly Award and the Mount Holyoke Award, are also presented. To highlight the conclusion of the 1983 assembly, the National Merit Scholarship finalists and Teacher of the Year, Dr. Steven Esthimer, were announced.

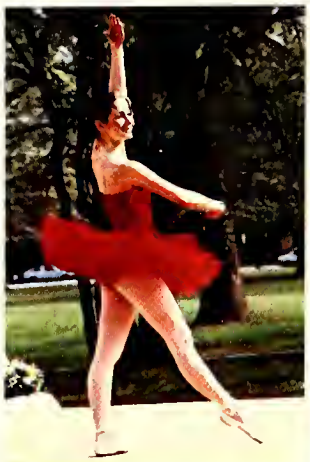
A JOYOUS AND GALA AFFAIR



Springfest is a significant part of the St. Mary's college tradition. It is a joyous and gala affair with an afternoon of song, dance, and pageantry. It has been described as "a kaleidoscope of pageantry and color."

The Spring Court was elected by the St. Mary's students. The presentation and coronation took place on the front lawn of Pittman Auditorium. The court also performed a traditional and colorful Maypole dance there.

Performances by the St. Mary's dance groups followed the court presentation.

The festivities ended with a reception on the Student Union lawn. The 1983 Springfest was a great success, a grand occasion, and a pleasant way to end the school year and celebrate the beauty of spring.

ALUMNAE DAY

Each spring brings a special tradition to St. Mary's College, the Alumnae Day. Sharing memories and meeting friends from school days past, the alumnae enjoy seeing familiar campus spots and the changes brought by new members of the St. Mary's family. Presentation of the May Court starts the event and is followed by such festivities as campus tours, a special chapel service, a luncheon, and a cocktail party. All alumnae are welcomed, for their participation makes Alumnae Day a grand success.

MARSHALS
PLAY IMPORTANT ROLES

St. Mary's is rich in tradition, and one of its oldest clubs, the marshals, personifies this tradition. The marshals, a select group of six girls, represent the best of St. Mary's by upholding St. Mary's true noble and honorable character. They symbolize a continuity in the school year as, at commencement, the newly-elected marshals lead the processions. This incorporates the idea of not the ending of one school year, but the beginning of another.

GRADUATION

Graduation is a fond but tearful memory for each St. Mary's graduate. In separate but traditional ceremonies, each procession was led by the marshals through the lawns in front of Smedes. The graduates were addressed by Mrs. Judee von Seldeneck, a St. Mary's alumna and trustee. In her speech, she stressed the importance of discipline, determination, and hard work in having a successful future. With a few moving remarks, President Rice closed each ceremony by allowing the girls to toss their caps high into the air.

PARENTS WEEKEND

PARENTS ENJOY THEIR WEEKEND

Parents Weekend was described as "an old-fashioned family reunion" this year. The weekend of September 30th was set aside for the parents to come visit the St. Mary's campus. Entertainment for the two days included a southern style picnic, family portraits, and a country morning breakfast. The weekend was enjoyable for the girls and their parents.

TALENT SHOW

COLD CUTS REVEAL THEIR COLORS

A fun and entertaining tradition is the annual talent show, which was organized by the Cold Cuts this year. Some girls exhibited their real talents, while others performed funny skits. For example, the WATS performed a humorous skit about the new DWI laws. The Cold Cuts revealed their new colors and sang several songs — some old and some new ones. Overall, it seemed to be a real success.

CARNIVAL IS A SUCCESS

BIG AND LITTLE SISTERS ENJOY

The big sister/little sister carnival was the beginning of a new tradition and provided an enjoyable way for all the returning students to get acquainted with their new little sisters. For many of the girls, the carnival meant games at the colorful and imaginative booths belonging to the different clubs on campus. For others it meant having a few extra minutes to share with old and new friends. School spirit and pride in our school was exhibited, and it encouraged interaction between the girls and the faculty. Overall, this September afternoon was delightful!

FORUM SERIES ENRICHES CAMPUS

The St. Mary's College Forum presented this series of arts and lectures for the enrichment of the college community. All programs were held in Pittman Auditorium on Monday mornings during the assembly hour, with the exception of The National Theatre of the Deaf, which was presented on Monday evening. Several of the guest speakers were available for classroom visits, informal discussions, and lunch with faculty and students while on campus.

Jim Valvano

October 10

10 am Presentation

A native of Queens, New York City, James T. (Jim) Valvano is a graduate of Rutgers University with a BA degree in English/Education. Head basketball coach at N.C. State University for only three years, Coach Valvano gained sudden national recognition in 1983 when his team won the NCAA championship in a stunning upset victory, winning nine consecutive tournament games to achieve the feat. He is highly regarded in the sports world for his vigorous emphasis on good sportsmanship, his intelligent game strategy, and for his remarkable ability to motivate his players. His quick wit and colorful personality have made him popular with the media, and he is in constant demand as a speaker for a variety of occasions.

2 pm Informal Discussion
(Student Lounge)

Colette Dowling is the author of the controversial best seller, The Cinderella Complex, in which she declares that women, because of their social conditioning, have a hidden fear of independence. She believes this results from a deep wish to be taken care of which she says is the "chief force holding down women today." A graduate of Trinity College, in Washington, D.C., and a 1958 Guest Editor for Mademoiselle magazine, Ms. Dowling's numorous pieces on women's issues have brought huge quantities of reader mail to the magazines that publish them: Harper's, The New York Times Magazine, New York, and Redbook. She is the mother of three teenage children.

Paula Robison, Flute
Kenneth Cooper, Harpsichord

January 30
10 am Concert

Paula Robison has been acclaimed as the world's preeminent woman flutist. Since becoming the first American to win first prize at the Geneva International Competition, she has been heard in more than 100 performances annually, as soloist with orchestra, as recital soloist, and as a chamber music performer. "Her playing is colored by a joy and spontaneity that communicates to everyone around her, audience and fellow musicians." – Washington Post

Kenneth Cooper, as one of America's leading harpsichordists, is a rare musician in that he has both a Ph.D. in musicology (Columbia University) and an unusual flair for performance, both as a soloist and accompanist. His special gift for improvisation has led him to become a widely respected Baroque music specialist. His concert repertoire is adventurous, reaching out even to Joplin, Gershwin, and Bartok.

Both Ms. Robison and Mr. Cooper record for Vanguard Records.

"The Hero With A Thousand Faces"

February 27
7:30 pm Performance

One of America's most original and highly praised theatre companies, The National Theatre of The Deaf, combines the spoken word with sign language to create a new dual language theatre form. In this rich, expressive, and adaptable language, the audience receives all the inflections and rhythm of spoken words and sees them embellished and enlivened to an extraordinary depth. In their fifteen years of performing, the National Theatre of The Deaf has toured America, Europe, and the Orient, made TV specials for CBS and PBS, and won a Tony award on Broadway.

Barbara Gordon is best known for her work as a documentary film producer and writer. She has received three Emmy Awards for her work in television. Her best selling autobiography, I'm Dancing as Fast as I Can, which became a major motion picture starring Jill Clayburgh, tells a candid and moving story of her victory over an affliction she shared with millions of others – the unwitting addiction to prescribed sedative drugs. A graduate of Barnard College, she also recently published a new novel, Defects of the Heart.

The "Lighting O' the Green" is a funfilled celebration bringing in the holiday season. Ms. Nancy Lyons, Mistress of Ceremonies, hosted this year's celebration. St. Mary's students, faculty, staff, and friends from surrounding neighborhoods came to make this a most gala affair. A visit by Santa Clause highlighted the evening along with visits by Scrooge and Tiny Tim. Everyone joined in to sing Christmas carols, with live entertainment from the Enloe High School Brass Ensemble.

ADMINISTRATION AND STAFF

ST. MARY'S PRESIDENT RICE

"I am yours; you are mine," President Rice can be quoted saying during a special Phi Theta Kappa chapel service. This says a lot about his dedication to St. Mary's and the closeness he tries to maintain with "his other family." Aside from his everyday duties as president, Mr. Rice can often be seen dining with his family in the cafeteria or attending a chapel service. Indeed, he plays an active role in the St. Mary's community and that gives every one an opportunity to get to know him as a leader and a person. He has proven his leadership abilities time and again, and we all respect this understanding, considerate man we have come to know. St. Mary's can only be as good as its people — President Rice has made it special

Math Department Chairman Miss Ellen Birch, who has taught at St. Mary's since 1971, believes that "mathematics is the universal language that finds uses in a wide range of disciplines, including everyday life."

This statement is proven by the wide range of courses offered by the department, including Calculus, Accounting, and most recently, high school computer classes. (A computer lab with 16 microcomputers was set up in Ragland for instructional use beginning with the 1983-84 academic year.) The department hopes to include a college computer class in the course offerings next year.

We found you here when we came, and from that first day you were not alone. We carried a candle for you and then you were able to see. . . dimly at first and finally with a clear eye. We took your arm and guided you. . . you followed timidly: afraid to regret, yet afraid not to try. At last you lost yourself in the traditions and standards of St. Mary's and we looked behind to find you no more. It was then we knew we would no longer lead you with our light, but now we will give you our candle — it is yours for we must go our way. . . no longer to challenge but to be challenged, no longer to guide, but to find our way alone. No longer to dream but to live a reality. It is true that we must leave you, but not until we have touched your heart and then you will not forget us.

SOPHOMORES

The Sophomores at St. Mary's College have many activities which distinguish them from the freshman class. Being a sophomore means joining such clubs as the Spiders, Undatettes, and the Beacon, and planning "Hell Week". Now that they are no longer "lowly" freshmen, it is the sophomores' privilege to initiate the freshmen into St. Mary's and to receive the respect they deserve. This teasing is all in fun, though, and actually brings the classes closer together by the year's end. The sophomores play a big role at St. Mary's!

FRESHMEN

The freshmam class, like many before it, participates in fundraisers to support the Freshman-Sophomore Dance they hold each year. This year, freshmen have gone from room to room in search of hungry people to support their candy bar and bake sales. Raffles are held and many new ideas are considered. From these early money-making ideas until the time the band steps up on the platform, the freshmen work hard. They also work on their community project and other worthy endeavors. We hope this freshman class captures the best of the old, but is also unique with its people and friendships.

Tomorrow is a dream that leads us onward . . .
Tomorrow is a path we have yet to choose
It's a chance we have yet to take
A friend we have yet to make
It's all the talent we have yet to use . . .
Tomorrow is a dream that leads us onward
Always just a step ahead of us,
It's the joy we have yet to know,
It's the love we have yet to show,
For it's the people we have yet to be.
